

Rudy Ploder

President, Workforce Solution

Rudy Ploder leads the company's Workforce Solutions business, which is a leading provider of human resource, compliance, analytics and verification services. An insights-driven organization, the business helps U.S. employers strategically manage their workforces and also helps credit lenders effectively mitigate risk.

Prior to leading Workforce Solutions, he led U.S. Information Solutions at Equifax and was responsible for all U.S.-based services that provide businesses with consumer and commercial information and insights, specifically related to risk management, fraud, marketing and a variety of industry-specific solutions.

Ploder also led the company's International unit with responsibility for all aspects of operations in eleven countries in Latin America, Europe and Canada.

Prior to joining Equifax in 2004, he held executive positions with MCI, SkyTel Communications, MobileComm and SBC Communications where he served in both corporate development and expansion-focused roles.

Ploder holds a bachelor's degree in science from Buenos Aires University, Argentina, and a master's degree in business administration from Kansas State University.
