VINE Courts is part of a broad platform with court case search and notification services that keeps court personnel, law enforcement, victims of crime and defendants informed and automatically notified.

- Court and legal personnel do not have adequate resources to keep up with the volume of notifications they are required to make by phone, email, or letter, to deliver requests to defendants to appear in court.
- Sheriffs and law enforcement need to keep track of where they, or a defendant, are required to appear in court.
- Victim advocates and program managers are tasked with contacting victims to ensure they stay updated as court dates and times change, or new court events are scheduled, especially in states where this is required by law.
- Victims and survivors have the right to be informed of the defendant's status as they move through the court process.
