The challenge

In today's borderless economy, global expansion should be as frictionless as domestic growth. While high-quality UK data remains a cornerstone of risk management, forward-thinking businesses require a unified view of their entire international portfolio.

Equifax bridges the global data gap by integrating our market-leading UK commercial insights with comprehensive business intelligence covering approximately 90 countries. This expanded reach eliminates the need for fragmented provider landscapes, transforming complex cross-border onboarding into a streamlined, competitive advantage.

Our international online report service empowers your team to make confident, real-time decisions globally. Whether you choose the automated speed of our structured API or the deep-dive flexibility of the Equip web portal, you can now maintain a consistent, high-standard of rigor for every prospect, regardless of where they are registered.

Empowering smarter cross-border decisions

This streamlined API functionality enables a unified, efficient way to access global data without leaving your proprietary environments.

While our UK commercial database provides market-leading depth for domestic entities, this solution delivers real-time access to credit reports for businesses across the globe. The data provided is consistently structured and typically includes corporate registration details, credit scores, and standardised financial statements where available, all subject to the specific disclosure laws of each country.

How it works

The international online report service is designed to fit your specific operational model, offering two primary methods of delivery: the Equip web portal and a structured API. This dual-access approach ensures that whether you need an occasional manual report or high-volume automated data, the solution is “plug-and-play” within your current infrastructure.

When a query is initiated, the service allows you to retrieve a list of supported countries and search for a specific company using multiple parameters to ensure an accurate match. Once the entity is identified, the system generates a real-time report, delivering structured data — including registration details and financial performance indicators — either to your screen in Equip or directly back into your workflow via the API for immediate analysis.
