

THE WORK
NUMBER

The Work Number integration overview: Commercial verification services

Auto, card, consumer finance, insurance
(home/auto), mortgage, and telecommunications

Even with more than 71K credentialed organizations using The Work Number® platform for income and employment verifications, we at Equifax understand that all organizations are different. That's why we offer many ways to digest the data to best fit your organizational needs. We've invested heavily in our cloud transformation with the goal of delivering industry-leading services to our customers with greater flexibility and scalability. Our integration options have been designed with you in mind.

Why consider an integration for verifications?

Import on-demand data directly into your system, and simplify the process by reducing manual, time-consuming steps to help lessen the chance of manual errors

Streamline and automate your orders based on loan decisioning needs, such as with certain consumer application activity or loan origination milestones — this allows you to customize your workflows to fit your teams needs

Ability to improve the borrower experience and help reduce friction through continued application progression and reduced documentation

With our operational efficiencies gained through integration you may be eligible for a price reduction compared to web purchases

Operational efficiencies for you too — gained by reducing time spent ordering via the website, downloading and reviewing PDF verifications and transferring data to your system

End to end solution to help automate business functions and often quicker access to new products and product enhancements

"Plug and play" integration to leading Loan Origination, Automated Underwriting, and Point of Sale systems

It really is both fast and easy!

Our established API's — Application Program Interfaces -make it convenient for your technology teams to get started. Did you know you can likely collaborate with Equifax through your preferred point of sale systems to make your integration seamless — we have pre-built integrations with over 60 loan origination systems!

We are here to help you be successful!

We provide technical expertise and support. An integration team specialist is assigned to provide guidance throughout the integration process.

We realize, regardless of industry, lenders are focused on how to expedite the origination process and reduce overall costs, all while maintaining superior customer service. Integrations via The Work Number APIs help enable lenders to accelerate time to revenue by reducing costs and improving efficiencies. Equifax is here to help make this happen.
