

The Work Number

Sample Government Verification of Employment (GVOE) - CSF

For many government agencies, knowing whether a person is employed, and if so, where that person is employed, are two key pieces of information needed in order to provide appropriate assistance. Equifax leverages The Work Number® database, the largest repository of consolidated employment and income data, to instantly provide this information. In compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), Equifax requires anyone requesting a verification to have permissible purpose. Government agencies may need to verify employment information for pre-employment and debt collection purposes. The government verification of employment provides basic information about an employee's job, their employer, their title, employment status (active or inactive), and the length of time with the employer.

The statement above is an official verification generated from The Work Number. Because this verification is system-generated with data that originated directly from the employer's payroll system, it is tamper-resistant and represents a higher level of authenticity than employee-furnished copies of paystubs or W2s. If any information is missing, it is because the employer did not provide this information for inclusion in The Work Number verification. Information not provided by the employer is showing as "Data Not Provided". Note: If this person left this employer and was rehired later, the "Total Time with Employer" amount will likely be understated and will only reflect the most recent consecutive months of service.
